Today's session started at 2:00. We had an individual speaking activity. The topic for today's session was "If we had the power to change into any creature, which one would that be and why?" The session started with F Ashif Ali. He chose to become an eagle because it has more speed and a great existence in life. Eagles also have a beak to catch prey.

Rakesh chose a dog because he feels more responsible and respectful towards his owner. Dogs always love their owners, so that's why he chose a dog as an animal. Additionally, dogs have a strong sense of smell.

Sadik chose squirrels. Squirrels are small to medium-sized rodents with slender bodies, bushy tails, and sharp claws. They are known for their agility, quick movements, and ability to climb trees and jump from branch to branch. They are diurnal, meaning they are active during the day.

Ashwin chose cats. Cats are crepuscular animals, meaning they are most active during dawn and dusk. They are solitary hunters and have retained many of their wild instincts, including stalking, pouncing, and grooming behaviors.

Amal chose lions. Lions are large, muscular cats with short, tawny fur and a tuft of hair at the end of their tails. Adult males typically have a prominent mane of hair encircling their heads, which varies in color from blond to black. They have great accuracy and speed to catch their prey.

Anfas chose tigers. Tigers are known for their strength and ability to catch prey very quickly. They are highly respected in the ecosystem and hold significant cultural and symbolic importance in many societies, particularly in Asia. They are often revered as symbols of strength, power, and royalty and are featured prominently in art, folklore, and mythology.
